FROM OUR PRESIDENT

To our member sheriffs, corporate partners, federal agency partners, and fellow members of law enforcement, allow me to welcome you to MCSA's 2023 Winter Conference!

As we gather for our annual meeting in Washington, D.C., the MCSA team has worked diligently to create an engaging agenda with Members of the Administration, Congress, and experts on relevant law enforcement topics. Over the next few days, we will discuss topics such as the implementation of the President's Executive Order on Policing, the ongoing fentanyl crisis that our communities face, sharing intelligence and deconfliction, grants, and other critically important issues we are facing at home in our communities.

As my first year as MCSA President comes to an end, I am incredibly appreciative of those sheriffs and partners who assisted with our organization's considerable transition. We believe we have an excellent team to lead us forward. During this next year, we must continue positioning MCSA at the forefront of national discussions and fostering positive relationships with our federal partners.

To those who are new members of MCSA, we look forward to connecting with you and welcoming you to our organization. I am honored that, together, we have the opportunity to represent the best law enforcement agencies in our country.

Thank you all for your commitment to MCSA and your ongoing support of our shared vision. We look forward to engaging in thoughtful discussions with you over the next few days.

Dennis Lemma
President

Together, we can tackle the opioid addiction crisis and other mental health disorders.

Opioid addiction and mental health disorders can make individuals feel isolated and alone. Opioid Use Disorder is increasingly recognized as a treatable medical disease. Medications and treatments are available to help patients and caregivers manage OUD and mental health disorders.

Through education, advocacy, policy, access, resources, treatment, and innovation, Indivior can help.
